

Man is not made for the State
but the State for man,
and it derives
its just powers
only from the consent of the governed.

- Thomas Jefferson